

I am in favor of allowing customers to own our personal cellular phone numbers. I have had a cellular phone and the same number for almost six years now and I hope to always have this number. Customers should not be pressured into staying with a company because the said company owns our phone number.